Husch Blackwell's Bo Mahr Named 2021 Fellow of New Leaders Council

Husch Blackwell is pleased to announce that Bo Mahr, an associate in the firm's Kansas City office, has been named as a 2021 New Leaders Council (NLC) Fellow.

NLC has 50 chapters across the country and nearly 9,000 alumni. During the six-month training program, the NLC Institute, Fellows are equipped with the skills to run for office, manage campaigns and create start-ups and networks of thought leaders.

Mahr practices in the firm's Energy & Natural Resources group and its Solar Energy, Wind Energy and Development & Tax Credits practices. His broad range of experience runs the gamut of renewable energy development from site control, to land use, incentives, environmental compliance, and debt and tax equity financing. Mahr earned his J.D. from the Washington and Lee University School of Law and his B.S. in business administration from the University of Missouri.
