Marnie Jensen Named to The American Lawyer's Inaugural List of Midwest Trailblazers

Husch Blackwell is pleased to announce that partner Marnie Jensen has been named to The American Lawyer's 2021 inaugural list of Midwest Trailblazers.

Jensen, a litigator in the firm's Food & Agribusiness group, represents clients in a variety of industries in complex commercial matters. She has led teams in successful bet-the-company litigation and other high-profile cases. Based on Omaha, she also chairs the firm's Food Safety & Regulation practice.

"I grew up in a farming community in the Midwest, so from an early age, I understood the devotion and business skill necessary in agriculture," Jensen said. "When I decided to practice law, I wanted to maintain that connection to what I learned growing up, and Husch Blackwell provides an excellent platform to do just that."

The Trailblazer series spotlights a handful of individuals from different practice areas who are "truly agents of change," with a goal of recognizing professionals in the Midwest who have "moved the needle in the legal industry." In choosing Jensen, the Trailblazer committee noted: "In the nation's bread basket, (Jensen is) often at the nexus of food safety and regulations, including the special requirements of organic."
