IFLR1000 Names Husch Blackwell a Top Project Development Firm

IFLR1000 has named Husch Blackwell a top energy project development firm in the United States, listing it among 32 elite firms in rankings released in late July.

Notable projects highlighted include:

Representing Savion, LLC as project and regulatory counsel in the Brazoria County and Brazoria West projects.

Representing Copenhagen Infrastructure Partners in the project development and financing of the 476 MW Fighting Jays Solar Project in Fort Bend County, Texas.

Representing Lightsource bp in achieving final funding and commercial operations of the 300 MW Bighorn Solar Project in Pueblo, Colorado, the largest on-site solar facility dedicated to a single customer in the country.

Representing Cordelio Power in the development, tax equity and debt financing of its 185 MW Glacier Farms wind farm in Illinois.

Representing Ares Energy Infrastructure as project counsel in the acquisition, construction financing, repower, tax equity financing, hedge and sale of four wind projects in Texas totaling 955 MW.

Earlier this year the firm was recognized by The Legal 500 United States 2022 for the second consecutive year in the practice area of Energy: Renewable/Alternative Power.
