Lawdragon Names Robert Hudock Among Leading Litigators in America

National law firm Husch Blackwell is pleased to announce that Los Angeles-based partner Robert Hudock has been named to the 2025 Lawdragon 500 Leading Litigators in America guide.

Hudock is an experienced litigator with more than two decades of experience defending employers in state and federal court, in both single-plaintiff and class action matters. He also defends employers in state and federal employment-related agency matters, including those before the California Labor Commissioner/DLSE and the Department of Fair Employment and Housing (DFEH), and also those in the federal Department of Labor (DOL) and Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

In addition to litigation, he provides advice, counseling, training, and other solutions in various matters, including workforce management; negotiating and preparing employment-related agreements; employee handbooks and policies; statutory leave; and wage and hour policies, practices, and strategies.

The selection process for the Lawdragon 500 Leading Litigators in America list is based on over 30 years of research, focusing on lawyers with significant impact in recent cases. Honorees are lawyers with extensive litigation experience, peer recognition, and strong reputations in their field.
