OVERVIEW

Deanna assists clients and case teams in complex construction and commercial litigation matters.

She facilitates matters at all phases of litigation in state, federal and appellate courts, from discovery and arbitration, through trial preparation and appeals. In real estate matters, owners, developers, architects and contractors rely on her experience and attention to detail as she collaborates with attorneys to create and review documents, insuring critical deadlines are met. In commercial litigation matters, she assists legal teams across sectors including:

- Private Wealth
- Labor & Employment
- Manufacturing
- Technology

Deanna is known for her ability to coordinate and organize the tens of thousands of documents common to complex litigation, producing client-specific forms, backing up line items and – in the process – finding missing funds owed our clients or reducing amounts claimed against them. She knows that systemizing and creating best practices never fails to produce efficiency, saving time and reducing costs for clients, who are always her first priority.
