OVERVIEW

Anna facilitates intellectual property litigation for clients and attorneys.

Anna is a key member of the legal team that guides clients through all stages of patent infringement suits and other intellectual property litigation. She routinely assists the team in preparation for and during lengthy jury trials in complex, multiparty, high-profile cases, including those in the federal courts. Collaborating closely with attorneys, Anna facilitates matters from initial investigation through trial. Throughout the litigation process, details she manages include:

- Legal research
- Due diligence
- Strategy meetings
- Correspondence
- Document review
- Pleadings and motions
- Trial preparation

She regularly works with eDiscovery processes and software to review and produce documents in the most cost-effective matter for clients. She enjoys the opportunity to help protect clients' inventions, ideas and products. Clients appreciate her organizing and streamlining matters so that they can get back to business.
