OVERVIEW

Matti offers practical solutions to corporate matters.

After earning a graduate degree in philosophy, Matti wanted a career where he could offer practical help: as much as he enjoyed his original field, he wanted the opportunity to give clients clear solutions to their business problems. Matti was also drawn to the people-driven nature of law and business.

Matti's research had focused heavily on economics, and his interest in markets translated into an enthusiasm for corporate, transactional, and securities matters. He is passionate about the ways businesses generate social wealth, and he loves the opportunity to help businesspeople grow their companies and contribute to their communities.

As a summer associate with Husch Blackwell, Matti assisted a variety of teams, including healthcare, real estate, litigation, corporate, and the newly established psychedelics practice group. He joined the firm as a full associate in 2023 and currently supports clients throughout the corporate transaction process.

At his core, Matti believes in truly understanding each client and their goals. He prioritizes genuine relationships built on trust and consideration, and he strives for complete client satisfaction. Matti embodies responsibility, consistently delivers on his promises, and is committed to serving clients as a trusted partner.
